None was for more than one bag, but all were pure wool and of the regulation length and width for first base. Wild Bill In Form. Wild Bill Otey forsook his usual mountain goat delivery and passed a line of goods to the batters that was really classy. His control was such that only one man was given first base without tapping something out, and only six hits in all were cleared. When those hits did come, however, they came in pairs, and the regulation results were apparent. For two chapters yesterday nothing was doing. Not a peep was heard on either side, and except for one little plece of bone that made Shaw think that Tiedman had suddenly been paralyzed and couldn't throw to second, in which surmise he was in error, there was nothing but very smooth sailing for the heaving department. It was three men up and three men down and back again. | CTATT BUTT |

Siceping Sickness.

A fatal attack of the sleeping sickness that caught Tiedman just south of second base and a bunch of benders that curveted and caracoled over and about the home plate, delivered by Morrissey, got the mortal goat of the good ship Mary Jane, and the piratical sea farmers took large doses of old Dr. Goose-Egg's hollow pills. Truckers Give Pitcher Poor Support, and Lose by 8-to-3 Score.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., June 2.—Playing a miserable game in the field behind Hannifan, while Danville gave Bussey brilliant and sensational support, the Truckers were defeated by the Bugs this afternoon by the goore of 8 to 3. The wildness of Hannifan helped to make the score one-sided.

The Bugs scored in three different innings, when they should have only had one opportunity to score. The Truckers, on the other hand, had chances to score in several, before they did finally work a runner around the circuit.

Laughlin was equal to the occasion with a double, but fast fielding cut Coggins off at the plate. Bussey, however, scored Laughlin with his clean drive for one base.

Things went along nice enough, and everybody thought that the club had everybody thought that the club had
